

Counseling Service of Addison County

ABOUT

People Helping People

The Counseling Service of Addison County (CSAC) is a community mental health center located in Middlebury, Vermont. Since 1959 CSAC has been an integral part of the Addison County Community.

We offer a wide range of professional mental health and developmental services designed to meet the needs of those seeking help. Using a multi-disciplinary approach, we draw on the expertise of staff trained in developmental services, addiction recovery treatment, psychiatry, mental health counseling, social work, family and child therapy, and employment support. Our goals are to reduce stigma and to help people live happier, more satisfying and productive lives in our community.

For more than 60 years, CSAC has been synonymous with quality care. The People of CSAC have gained recognition for achieving new levels of excellence. The Counseling Service is a place where your compassion gives comfort, your talent drives innovation, and your care makes a difference.
